Walk to School week

Living Streets Walk to School campaign features two awareness events during the year: Walk to School week and International Walk to School month. Both offer schools the opportunity to take part in time-limited walking challenges, and have proved great stepping stones for engagement with the year-round campaign.

Walk to School Week is an annual week-long walking challenge, which takes place during National Walking Month each May. It is a touch point for children to understand the benefits of walking and for schools to celebrate these. Walk to School Week classroom packs can also be used to run a week-long walking challenge at any time of year.

“We have happier, healthier children, social groups have improved and fewer children are late for school. The resources are good value and easy to use. They are also bright and colourful and appeal to the children as they have been made by other children.” St James’ Catholic Primary School
